Our medical rehabilitation service

Tokio Marine Kiln has a relationship with TICCS, the rehabilitation provider that works with numerous NHS trusts on outsourced rehabilitation services across the UK. Our connection to TICCS means that care is provided at the time of the incident and before a claim is made, which may result in a reduction in claim numbers.

TICCS provides:

- The widest range of clinics in the UK with access to over 300 musculoskeletal clinicians operating out of more than 200 clinics. Over 98% of TICCS's patients would recommend them to friends or family
- Professionals trained in counselling and the provision of psychological therapies

They also work closely with our team of claims professionals to provide positive outcomes for injured parties and deliver more than 50,000 clinical treatments every month throughout the whole of the UK.
